

1. Who are some of the people you have considered THOSE PEOPLE in your lifetime? Why?
2. Could you invite that person or those People to have dinner with you as part of your family?
3. When was the first time you ever really saw those individuals as something more than their label? Consider the quote "Proximity breeds empathy."
3. What are some ways we could apply the truth that Jesus' gospel brings unity, even in diversity?
4. Are you open to God leading you through visions? Has He ever done that for you?
5. Where does our unity in Christ stem from theologically? What are some passages that speak to this?
